

School Building Maintenance

12 engineers and 158 public school management members from Kunduz city and the districts of Qala-e-Zal, Aliabad, Khanabad and Imam Sahib participated in the training. The activity aimed at enhancing the participants' capacities for maintaining and operating public buildings. At the closing ceremony, one of the participants, Mr Mohammad Yosif Orfan, commented, "The training was very helpful. It enables us to do repair works and maintain our school buildings independently in the future."

The training focused on tools such as maintenance checklists, maintenance manuals and budget plans, allowing the public servants to detect building deficiencies promptly, do repair works on their own and plan the maintenance budget. Therefore, the participants are now able to do their jobs more efficiently. All attendants received templates for future use in addition to the completion certificates.

Another trainee, Mr Janatgul Nasiri, emphasised, "In the past, maintaining our school buildings has been a major problem. The training addressed the most important issues and further provided us with operation and maintenance manuals and checklists. Now we are well equipped to maintain our buildings properly. For that, we are very grateful."
